

Bristol Green Capital Partnership Election

Tina Biggs of FOSBR has been elected as one of the new directors on the Bristol Green Capital Partnership board. Tina will start her new role from 1st May 2018. Chris Dunford of "We the curious" was also elected as a new director. These roles are voted for by member organizations of the Partnership.

Board directors provide ongoing strategic direction to the Partnership and ensure it can support and enable its members as effectively as possible to create real change for the city.

On receiving the news, Chris Dunford commented, "I am delighted to have been elected as a Director on the Board of the Bristol Green Capital Partnership and I welcome the responsibility of representing all the members of the Partnership. I look forward to working with the Partnership Team and Board to harness all the incredible expertise and passion of the membership to develop exciting new projects that build upon Bristol's impressive progress in sustainability whilst working to engage all parts of our community."

Christina Biggs is thrilled to have been elected. "I have developed a lot of networking and analytical skills in my role with the Friends of Suburban Bristol Railways and am very keen to bring campaign groups together within the new Green Capital Partnership member forum to work effectively on common goals. I consider that the Green Capital Partnership is of a critical mass now to be a powerful force for sustainable living and transport in this beautiful and outward-looking city."

Congratulations to Tina and good luck in your new voluntary role.
